FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*IMV Announces Board Retirement

Dartmouth, Nova Scotia; February 14, 2020– IMV Inc. (Nasdaq: IMV; TSX: IMV), a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company pioneering a novel class of immunotherapies, today announced that Albert Scardino will retire from the IMV Board of Directors effective February 28th, 2020.

Mr. Scardino, 71, joined the board in 2011 and served as Chairman from 2011 to 2016. After a career in journalism in the US and the UK, he became an independent investor and company director. With his wife, Marjorie Scardino, he has owned a significant shareholding in IMV since 2004.

“It has been a source of humility to work with so many talented scientists and committed shareholders for so many years,” Mr. Scardino said. “The discoveries in immunology made by the science faculty at Dalhousie University in Halifax more than 25 years ago may improve the prevention and treatment of many human diseases. I’m grateful for having had the chance to support this work.”

IMV’s Board and Management thank him for his dedication and support of the Company, and wishes Albert well in all his future endeavors.

About IMV

IMV Inc. is a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company dedicated to making immunotherapy more effective, more broadly applicable, and more widely available to people facing cancer and other serious diseases. This patented technology leverages a novel mechanism of action that enables the programming of immune cells in vivo, which are aimed at generating powerful new synthetic therapeutic capabilities. IMV’s lead candidate, DPX-Survivac, is a T cell-activating immunotherapy that combines the utility of the platform with a target: survivin. IMV is currently assessing DPX-Survivac in advanced ovarian cancer, as well as a combination therapy in multiple clinical studies with Merck’s Keytruda[®]. Connect at www.imv-inc.com.
